Important Ruling in Tobacco Case.

The case of Patrick Collins against the Commonwealth, from Mason, was affirmed by the Court of Appeals Friday. Collins pooled his tobacco and later shipped it to Cincinnati and sold it. He was indicted and fined $150 for this offense. The court says the actual sale in Cincinnati of the pooled tobacco was a mere incident, as the taking of the tobacco out of Mason county was a violation of the pool contract. The opinion says this is not the same case as O'Banion against Commonwealth from Owen, as in that case the pooling contract authorized O'Banion to store his tobacco outside the State and while it was stored in Cincinnati he sold it, thus taking the whole transaction out of the State.

Trots at Mt. Sterling Fair.

The Montgomery County Fair Association directors have passed a resolution amending the charter so that the association can give a trotting meeting this fall separately from the fair. The board also passed a resolution changing the time of electing directors from April as provided for in the charter and have fixed the date of choosing directors and new officers to today. The meeting of the stockholders at the county court room, and the date for the coming fair will also be chosen on that date.

Fifty Men Lynch Three Negroes.

Threatening to blow the building to atoms with dynamite unless they were given three negroes incarcerated in the Shelby county jail, a mob of fifty masked men Sunday morning stormed the jail and seized and lynched the three blacks, two of whom were charged with insulting two white women and the third who was under sentence of death for the murder of a negro woman and held awaiting the day of his execution to be named.

The bodies of two of the negroes, Green Marshall and Wade Patterson, were found. That of the third is still unaccounted for, although he was seen with the mob with a rope about his neck. The third negro was Jim West.

According to Ernest Hornback, Deputy Jailor, the mob appeared at the jail at 2:10 o'clock Sunday morning and it was 3:25 when they took the three negroes away, leaving fourteen others in the same cell from which the three were taken.

The two bodies recovered were found about a quarter of a mile apart. That of Marshall was found hanging to the bridge over the Eminence pike, near the jail, while that of Patterson was found in Clear Creek. Patterson, it is said, attempted to escape, was shot and his body thrown in the creek.

When the mob appeared at the jail and demanded the negroes, Jailor Edward Thompson concealed the keys. The mob then threatened to blow up the building and some began calling for dynamite while others began pounding in the iron doors with sledge hammers. Seeing resistance was useless in the face of such overwhelming odds the keys were turned over to the mob leaders.

Fire Bugs After Cox.

At Maysville Friday morning fire damaged the stable of Lieutenant Governor Cox, in the rear of his residence, and as it was set fire, Chief Hite has called for an investigation by the State Fire Marshall.

DEATHS.

—Mrs. Mary Price, widow of the late Lazarus Price, for nearly half a century one of the leading clothing merchants of Paris, died in Cincinnati at an early hour Friday morning, at the advanced age of 84 years.

She is survived by one son, Mr. I. L. Price, senior member of the firm of Price & Co., of Paris, and one daughter, Mrs. Carrie Herzog, of Cincinnati, with whom she resided.

The interment took place in the cemetery at Cincinnati Sunday morning. When Mr. Price was summoned to go to the bedside of his mother, Mrs. Price had already been called to Chicago, in response to a telegram announcing the serious illness of her father.

—Mrs. Caroline Doernberg Newhall, wife of Wm. J. Newhall, formerly of Paris, died at her home in Cincinnati Friday. The funeral was held in that city Sunday morning.

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.INTER-STATE MODEL 35,

Bourbon Garage & Supply Company of Paris has the newest Type in Touring Car.

The Bourbon Garage & Supply Company has just received the following advanced information in regard to the new Inter-State touring car, Model 35.

Model 35 is fitted with a roomy four door body, which is the last work of perfection in the body builder's art. The seating accommodations are ample, for a maximum of seven passengers and the car is also designed to be practical, and entirely suitable for a five passenger car alone. The two removable and a justable seats provided in the tonneau, are finished to match the other upholstery. The upholstery is of the highest quality of hand-stuffed leather, luxuriously tufted and stuffed with genuine pulled and curled hair. The finish throughout is the Inter-State quality, which means the very best.

The power plant of the Model 35 is of a new design. In the larger and more powerful motor of Model 35 we have produced a well-balanced and symmetrical design by arranging the inlet and exhaust valves on opposite sides. The bearings in the new Model 35 motor are worthy of special mention. The main crank bearing is 2 in diameter and 4 1/2 in length, which are very liberal proportions.

Mechanical description of Model 35 Inter-State Motor—The motor of Model 35 Inter-State is of the T-head type with valves on opposite sides and develops fifty horsepower at normal speed of 1200 revolutions per minute the motor has a bore of 4 1/2 and stroke of 5 1/2. This form of motor construction gives fine accessibility to the valves when it is necessary, as the valves can be easily rotated by a brace from above. In this method of arranging the valves on opposite sides of the motor, the tops of the cylinders are not burdened with long rocker arms and springs, which are demanded when one or both valves are placed in the head of the cylinder. Moreover, placing the valves on both sides makes the motor more accessible and the manifolds and other auxiliaries being more equally distributed on both sides of the cylinder, there is a better balance of these parts. The valves are of extra large size 2 1/2 in diameter with rickel steel heads and have carefully ground stems, with removable valve guides. The valves are operated by push rods provided with frictionless rolling contacts on the cam shaft, making them silent in operation. The rollers are hard and thoroughly case hardened and ground. A very advanced feature of great practical worth in the motor of Model 35 is the use of eccentric cam and pump shaft bushings, thus allowing exact meshing of the timing gears. The suspension of the motor is by means of a three point support the advantages of which are so well known that it requires but little comment. The three-point support obviates any possibility of twisting stresses from the frame being received by the motor and supports the weight of the motor more satisfactory than any other type of suspension.

Crank shaft—Crank shafts are made of a special alloy steel forging, heat treated with the greatest of care and machined and ground to exact dimensions. Crank pin bearings are 1 7/8 in diameter and 2 1/2 in length.

Cylinders—The cylinders are made from specially selected close-grained gray iron with integral water jackets and valve chambers. The cylinders are given a severe hydraulic test after machining and only those of absolutely flawless construction are employed. Scrupulous care is in the grinding of cylinders is carried out to prescribed and accurate dimensions. Pistons and pins are constructed from specially selected fine grained iron and are ground on both sides and diameters and positively interchangeable. Extra large diameter piston pins are employed in the pistons and these are carefully hardened and ground and of hollow design to permit positive lubrication.

Two complete ignition systems are employed, the first consisting of a set of dry cells and a four unit vibrating coil. The second of an imported high tension magneto. Each system is provided with a separate spark plug in each cylinder, which are located in the plugs over the valves.

Lubrication—The well worked out and efficient Inter-State forced feed and splash system is employed in this model. The gear driven supply pump is of slightly different construction than in the other models. It is of the distributing type and provides positive and equal delivery to the three main bearings. Oil overflows from these bearings into the splash pockets of the oil pan, allowing the splash spoons on the connecting rods to dip slightly into them and be distributed over the connecting rod and cam shaft bearings and interior surfaces of the cylinders. A sight feed conveniently located on the dash and readily discernible, gives positive information as to the condition of oil supply.

Transmission and clutch—These are of unit construction but of larger dimensions than in the smaller models.

The clutch and transmission housing are supported by three point suspension, which obviates strains being transmitted from the frame. The transmission is of the sliding gear type with three speeds forward and one reverse. The gears are of special vanadium steel thoroughly case hardened, five pitch, and one inch of face. The clutch is of the multiple disc type, using bronze discs with cork insets placed between discs of hardened steel. These discs are of large diameter and thicker than in the other models, which provides ample wearing surfaces. Cork on steel makes a very durable clutch and gives an especially fine and smooth operating clutch. The clutch operates gradually and gently and is distinctive in its engagement. Both transmission and clutch are contained in an integral case separated by an oil retaining partition. This design permits the employment of a special clutch oil and precludes the possibility of the transmission oil working into the clutch compartment and interfering with the operation of the clutch. The clutch releasing pedal is designed for very easy operation.

Front axle—The front axle on Model 35 Inter-State Torpedo Touring Car is one piece of I-beam section, made from a drop forging, which is carefully heat treated. The steering knuckles are mounted on case hardened bolts and are provided with a ball thrust bearing to affect ease in turning.

Rear axle—The rear axle is of the Inter-State full-floating type of a design which has been thoroughly tried out for this car. The axle is provided with adjusting sleeves and thrust bearings to compensate for any wear that may occur in the differential gears. The imported F. & S. annular bearings are used throughout. The pinion shaft is mounted in the rear axle differential housing and the entire differential may be removed through the rear of the axle housing.

Drive shaft—The drive shaft is a design which eliminates distance rods, or torison rods, and operates in an oil and dust proof torsion tube.

Frame—The frame is pressed steel, heat treated and narrowed in front to provide for turning the car in short space and is dropped to allow full action of the rear springs and to bring the body closer to the ground. It is not riveted throughout and additionally re-enforced with gussets and channels.

Front Springs—The front springs are of special high quality vanadium steel of semi-elliptic design and are 40 in length. The rear springs are three-quarter elliptic and 48 in length and are 2 wide throughout and are also made of vanadium steel. All spring bolts are fitted with grease cups to give positive lubrication. Spring eyelets are of hardened steel bushed, which insures smooth action and freedom from wear.

Brakes—The brake design and construction in Model 35 represents the most advanced ideas in motor car practice and is to be found only in the highest grade cars. Both emergency and service brakes are of the internal expanding type, the brake bands of the service brakes being 16 in diameter and 2 1/2 in face and the bands of emergency brakes 12 in face and 2 1/2 wide. The advantage of having both brakes internal are obvious. The service brake is not exposed so as to collect dust, grit and water and to lose its efficiency from lack of protection. The brake rods are parallel to and in the same plane with the torque tube.

Invention of the Salad.

Delicate cookery has long been known to flourish best in those lands where roast beef is hard to get. It was starvation that invented the salad, for example. Somebody had to eat grass or go hungry, so he put vinegar and oil, pepper and salt on it, and lo! it made dry bread seem like a dinner. I do not doubt that we shall bless the meat trust for a varied dietary ere we get through with it or it with us, whichever way the thing comes out.—Eugene Wood, in Hampton's Magazine.

Duty.

It is thy duty oftentimes to do what thou wouldst not; thy duty, too, to leave undone what thou wouldst do.—Thomas a Kempis.

Escaped With His Life.

"Twenty-one years ago I faced an awful death," writes H. B. Martin, Port Harrison, S. C. "Doctors said I had consumption and the dreadful cough I had looked like it sure enough. I tried everything I could hear of for my cough, and was under the treatment of the best doctor in Georgetown, S. C., for a year, but got no relief. A friend friend advised me to try Dr. King's New Discovery. I did so, and was completely cured. I feel that I owe my life to this great throat and lung cure." Its positively guaranteed for coughs, colds and all bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at Oberdorfer's.

Shooting in Nicholas County.

Joe Crawford, a blacksmith at Blue Lick Springs, Nicholas county, was shot and dangerously wounded Tuesday evening by R. Shay, a wealthy farmer of near Blue Lick Springs.

Mr. Shay went to Carlisle and gave himself up to the officers, and his examining trial was held at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. On the failure of some witnesses to be present, he was permitted to bail in the sum of $1,000 to appear on the 26th day of January. Four men witnessed the shooting and they claimed Mr. Shay shot him in self-defense.

Former Paris Player Dead.

Clifford Willinger, aged 25 years, died in a Cincinnati Hospital Wednesday. Several years ago Willinger sustained an injury to his knee while playing ball in the Ohio State League. He was compelled to submit an operation Wednesday and died from the ordeal. He will be remembered as having been a member of an independent ball team, under the management of Desha Lucas, in this city a few years ago, playing the position of first-baseman. While he made a number of friends who will hear with regret of his death.

Arrested for Old Murder.

John M. Hamlin, better known as John Maynard, of Tazewell, Tenn., was arrested by Deputy Jailer F. B. Following the murder Maynard, it is said, broke jail at Tazewell and since then has been at large.

Cherubini's Advice.

A young man with an extremely powerful voice was in doubt what branch of musical art to adopt. He went to the composer Cherubini for advice. "Suppose you sing me a few bars," said the master. The young fellow sang so loud that the walls fairly shook. "Now," said he, "what do you think I am best fitted for?" "Auctioneer," dryly said Cherubini.—Old Farmers' Almanac, 1882.

"Jim Crow" Decision.

That railroads cannot be required to provide separate compartments in sleeping cars for white and negro passengers was the decision of the court of appeals Wednesday in the case of the commonwealth of Kentucky against the Illinois Central railroad. The court held that, inasmuch as the sleeping cars are not owned and controlled by the railroads, the railroads cannot be forced to interfere with their operation.

Popular Chinese Fruit.

A fruit popular in North China, and which is most excellent for the table, either stewed or as jam, is in appearance like a crabapple. The flesh is pinkish in color, and when served at table it has the color of cranberry sauce. The taste is pleasant, with a subacid flavor, and very refreshing. The Chinese call it "hung-kuo" (pronounced hongkuwa), which means "red fruit."

Dickey Has Opposition.

Postmaster John Dickey, of Cynthiana, brother of Mr. J. W. Dickey, of Paris, has opposition for re-appointment which takes place on or before March 1911, in the person of Mr. Lewis LeBus, son of Orie LeBus. It is claimed that Mr. LeBus is circulating a petition, which is being liberally signed.

Negro Bootlegger Admits Guilt.

In Justice Fretwell's court Wednesday Jordan Richardson, under indictment in the Bourbon Circuit Court on twenty counts charging him with the illegal sale of intoxicating liquor in the negro suburb of Claysville, pleaded guilty and was given a fine of $20 and costs in each case.

The aggregate amount that Richardson will have to pay is $490, and, having recently made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors, will have to comply with the judgment imposed by Justice Fretwell, which specifies that the fine must be worked out at hard labor.

Since Justice Fretwell and County Attorney George B. Batterton were inducted into office one year ago negro bootleggers in Claysville have paid or worked out at hard labor fines aggregating nearly $4,000 and the work of ferreting out the guilty ones has not yet stopped.

State Fair Dates May be Changed

President Jos. M. Hall of the Bourbon County Agricultural Society is in receipt of a communication from Mr. L. Dorsey of Anchorage, member of the State Board of Agriculture, in which he states that at the meeting of the board called for January 19, to be held in Lexington, that he will vote to change the date of the State Fair back to September 11, so as not to conflict with the Old Bourbon Fair.

Mr. Dorsey says that, aside from business reasons, he agrees with the claims that the Old Bourbon Fair is the oldest in the state, that it has always been respected by all other fairs in the state, as to the priority of dates for the holding of its exhibition during the first week of September, and that as far as is in his power he will do what he can to maintain, upon the part of Louisville and western Kentucky, amicable relations with the citizenship of old Bourbon.

Mr. Dorsey, who voted at the previous meeting of the board fixing the date of the State Fair, says that Indiana has changed her fair from the eleventh of September back to the week of the fourth and that there will be no clash of dates between these two great agricultural fairs.

Goebel Cases All Off Now.

Believing that the state should be saved the expense of a trial and that it would be impossible to convict William Goebel, Wharton Golden and Green Golden, charged with complicity in the murder of Governor William Goebel, Commonwealth's Attorney Robert B. Franklin Saturday filed a motion in the Franklin Circuit Court asking that the indictments against Culton and the Golden be dismissed. Special Judge Benton entered an order dismissing the three indictments, which brought to an end prosecutions begun nearly eleven years ago, the others charged with complicity in the murder having been either pardoned or acquitted.

Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin submitted his motions in writing and said: "During the years that have passed since the assassination of Governor William Goebel I have learned much as to who was guilty of participation in that crime. I am acquainted with the history of the 'Goebel assassination cases' and do not believe that a conviction of the defendants could or ought to be had. I feel that the Commonwealth ought not to be put to the expense of a trial of these indictments."

Judge Howard Named for Minister.

A news dispatch from Washington Tuesday said: "The President today appointed H. Clay Howard, of Paris, Minister to Peru, to succeed Leslie Combs, of Lexington. The nomination was referred to the Senate foreign relations committee, and will be reported and confirmed the latter part of the week."

"Mr. Howard will take the oath of office March 1, and will spend several weeks here receiving instruction from the State Department. He will be in Lima about May 1. Mr. Howard was originally slated for the Eastern district attorneyship, but the resignation of Mr. Combs cleared the way for his appointment in the diplomatic service upon Senator Bradley's recommendation."

Free Dyspepsia Sample

Sufferers from indigestion are waking up to the fact that peppermint lozenges, charcoal and "dyspepsia cures" are only makeshifts in the cure of so troublesome a complaint as chronic indigestion. What is required is something that will not only relieve but which will tone and train the digestive apparatus to again do its work normally, and this these simple remedies cannot do.

There is something more to the cure of indigestion than sweetening the breath, and yet a remedy that only contains digestive ingredients will not cure permanently, as the basis of indigestion is poor bowel circulation, and that requires a scientific laxative. We know of no remedy that combines these requirements better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which has been sold for a quarter of a century.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a laxative tonic, a scientific blending of natural ingredients for the cure of constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sour stomach, sick headache and similar complaints. Its ingredients will so strengthen and tone the stomach and bowel muscles that they will again do their work naturally, and when that has been accomplished your trouble is over. Fannie Stuart, Staunton, Va., was a long-time sufferer, as was O. Tuck, Blackburn, Mo., and they both found their cure with this remedy. They became convinced that pills and tablets, salts, "dyspepsia cures," etc., were at best only temporary relief. They first accepted Dr. Caldwell's offer of a free sample bottle, which he willingly sends to anyone who forwards name and address. Later, free sample, they bought Syrup Pepsin of their druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

The examining trial of Frank Taylor, charged with killing John Delaney last Tuesday, was held in Winchester Friday afternoon before Judge Evans and in default of $1,500 bail Taylor was sent to jail to await the action of the Clark County Grand Jury.

Both men were from this county and were members of a logging camp owned by Alvin Hicks, near Winchester. The men were riding the horses attached to a wagon and no one else was present.

After the killing Taylor is said to have told several conflicting stories. First he said that Delaney had killed himself; next that Hicks had shot Delaney and finally that he had shot him in self defense.

In his testimony Friday he said that both men were drinking; that Delaney borrowed his pistol and threatened to shoot him with it and that in the scuffle which followed it was discharged, killing Delaney instantly.

Negro Cutting Affray in Clayville.

In a difficulty which took place in the negro suburb of Clayville Saturday night, Pres Lannum, was seriously and probably fatally cut by Jim Sharp. Both are negroes.

The difficulty took place at a resort in Clayville and it is alleged Lannum was the aggressor. He was slashed about the head and body and was wounded in about a dozen places.

After the cutting, Sharp made his escape and has not been apprehended. Both of the negroes were bad characters, and have participated in several cutting affrays. Sharp had only recently been released from jail where he was being held on a charge of cutting with intent to kill.

Lannum, about a year ago, was severely wounded in a fight in Clayville, when he provoked a quarrel with two negroes, one of whom attacked him with a hatchet and the other stabbed him several times with a knife. He is under indictment in the Bourbon Circuit Court for cutting Ed Herrin in a difficulty which took place about two months ago.

Body of Brent Marshall Found.

With every bone crushed and a steel girder weighing many tons lying across the remains, the body of Brent Marshall, vice president of the Early & Daniel Co. was found Monday morning in the ruins of the Chamber of Commerce building, at Cincinnati.

Workers had been working all night in the hope of finding some trace of the missing men. As the dawn was breaking one of the diggers gave a shout. In an instant every man was ordered into the ruins. The man had found a piece of cloth and tried to pull it out. In doing so he uncovered the body of Brent Marshall. In a few seconds the remains were uncovered.

Flames had obliterated the features, but a bank book in the pocket of the coat showed that it was the body of Marshall.

The suspense of his relatives in Covington anxiously waiting at the home gave way to the keenest anguish when they were informed that his body had been recovered from the ruins.

Miss Elizabeth Marshall, his sister, with whom he had lived since the death of their mother was one of the first to learn of the recovery of the body.

Arrangements were made to remove the body to the Marshall home in Covington as soon as it had been viewed by the coroner.

Attorney Ulie J. Howard in preparing a public statement in behalf of the family.

He is survived by three brothers—Symmes, Charlton and Walter Marshall and one sister, Miss Elizabeth Marshall.

The funeral will be held at the Marshall home tonight and the body will be brought to Paris Wednesday morning arriving here on the 10:15 L. & N. train, when it will be taken to the Paris cemetery where it will be interred in the family lot.

VOTE AGAINST CUT-OUT

Bourbon Growers Met - Saturday Afternoon and Declare Against the Movement.

MEETING WELL ATTENDED

The tobacco growers of Bourbon county in convention Saturday afternoon voted to grow tobacco this year. The convention was largely attended, more interest being manifested in the meeting than at any time during the struggle of the growers in the combat against the trust.

Fully two hundred and fifty growers assembled at the court house Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock, and at 1:30 the convention was called to order by Mr. Kenney Nichols, a prominent tobacco grower of Hutchins, who had been designated as temporary chairman.

After reading the call issued from the headquarters of the Burley Tobacco Union at Lexington, Mr. Nichols addressed the assembled growers briefly, setting forth the object of the meeting. He declared he was willing to abide by the decision of the majority of the growers present, but as he had attended the meeting held in Lexington on January 5, at which thirty-one out of thirty-four tobacco growing counties had endorsed the cut-out movement, and while it was immaterial to his interests which course was pursued, he deemed it wise to follow with the majority.

Mr. Nichols also stated that the majority of the growers of this county who opposed the cut-out pledge were those who had disposed of their tobacco, and those who favored the movement were the growers who had a great amount of tobacco on their hands. He said this year should be the cleaning up year. With a crop this year, he declared, the price of tobacco would suffer a decline, resulting in the farmers being unable to obtain a better price than seven cents for their product.

The convention then proceeded to organize and nominations for a permanent chairman were heard. Warren Rogers, of Flat Rock, a bitter opponent to the cut-out pledge, was nominated as John T. Collins, former secretary of the Burley Tobacco Society and H. S. Caywood, of North Middletown. The latter two withdrew when the vote was being taken and a motion to make Mr. Rogers' nomination unanimous met with but little opposition. The organization was completed by the selection of T. Hart Talbott as Secretary.

After the election of a chairman and secretary, Mr. D. C. Lisle offered a resolution to be presented before the convention condemning the cut-out movement as outlined by the Burley Tobacco Union. The resolution is as follows:

"Resolved, By the tobacco growers of Bourbon county that we earnestly condemn the movement to cut out the 1911 tobacco crop. This movement, if consummated would force the breaking of many contracts already made; would be a great wrong and hardship to the tenants and their employees; would completely break up and demoralize their business arrangements for the year, and would compel many of them to leave the State.

"It would also infringe upon the rights of the land-holders by attempting to control what they shall do in the management of their own private property.—We therefore hereby declare our right and determination to exercise our own judgment at the same time freely granting the same rights to others to absolutely control the matter as to whether we shall individually raise a crop in 1911.

"Any other course is entirely destructive to our liberties under the law, and to the necessary protection of our personal and property rights."

Chairman Rogers called for a vote on the resolution before the convention. The aye and nay vote was taken. The chairman declaring the resolution had carried and the convention adjourned amid a storm of protests from the advocates of the cut-out movement whose contention was that the vote was so close a count should have been taken.

That the majority of the farmers throughout the Burley growing district are strongly in favor of the no crop movement in 1911 was clearly shown by the meetings held Saturday afternoon by the Burley growers.

Seventeen out of twenty-five counties reporting Saturday night favored resolutions for the cut-out plan recently adopted at the meeting of the Burley Tobacco Union held in Lexington.

In a few counties there were only a small number of growers in attendance and these favored the cutting out of the 1911 crop and the pooling of the crop in 1912.

Only five counties turned down the proposition and in three no action was taken. The growers all over the district are enthusiastic over the prospects for no crop this year and at many of the meetings Saturday afternoon a large acreage was immediately signed for the 1911 cut out.

The following is the results of the meetings in the counties in which they were held:

Bath county—Big meeting and 145 growers pledged 922 acres to the cut out and county is expected to be unanimous.

Boone county—Everybody at the meeting signed the pledges to cut out and sentiment is strong.

Bourbon county—Split on the vote, with those voting to grow a crop in 1911 in the majority.

BRASS BEDS—IRON BEDS—WOODEN BEDS

BRASS BEDS look very much the same when they are new. In a few months most of them are black-streaked and horrid. You can count on one hand the brass bed manufacturers who know how to lacquer brass so that it will stay bright. We buy from one of them.

We think we have an exceptionally pretty assortment of designs. Come and see what you think.

IRON BEDS plain white—brass trimmed—pink or blue enamel—we can sell you any kind, and you will agree, when you see them, that each is an exceptional value.

WOODEN BEDS in good grades are coming back into style. They are made better now. The new ones are really as clean and sanitary as brass or iron, and they often look prettier, as you will find when you see ours.

Whatever kind of bed you buy, you surely must have a STEARNS & FOSTER MATTRESS if you would be really comfortable. Made in four grades of superiority (you can prove it by 60 nights' trial), $10.50—$22.50.

Westminster Chimes

TUBULAR BELL CHIME

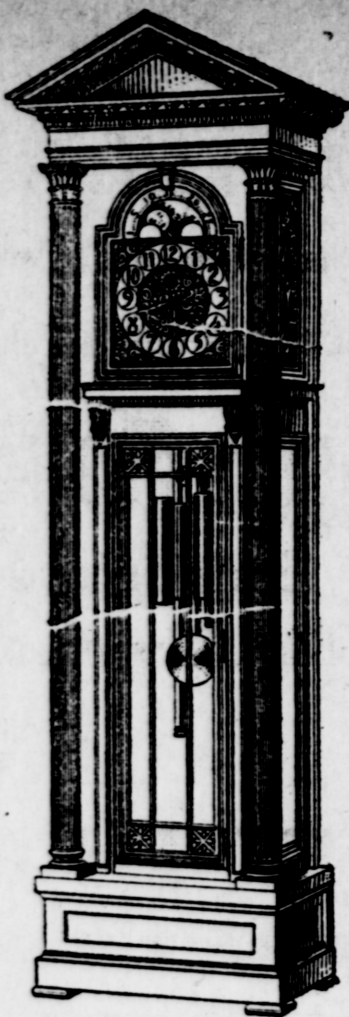

The Herschede Hall Clock as a timepiece, a tubular chime, and an article of furniture for home, office, or institution, appeals alike to utility, refinement, and musical taste. The perfect movement insures correctness of time; the solid oak or mahogany case, with classic lines, conforms to good taste; and the melodious tubular chimes, sounding the hours and quarters after the peals of Whittington or Westminster, serve as a pleasing reminder of the passing hour. The fifty styles give ample choice in design, size, and price, all showing the moon's phases in the dial arch. We are sales agents for The Herschede Hall Clock Co. of this city, and will send illustrated catalog on request.

BROKE UP THE HABIT.

"What has become of those two children who visited you so often?" asked one west side woman of another. The other smiled discreetly.

"They are the children of my niece, and she was making a convenience of me. Of course I love the children, but I never allow myself to become much of a victim of imposition. My niece is an extremely gay young widow, and she does not like to take care of her children. She is fond of shopping, matinees, afternoon teas and everything, in short, which takes her away from home, and she got into a habit of sending her children over to my house for me to take care of whenever she wished to break about. I decided it was time to break up the habit, for her own good and that of the children, as well as mine, so I did."

"I suppose that made your niece angry?"

"Oh, no; it couldn't. I never said anything about it. The last time the children came over I spent the afternoon teaching them verses from the Bible, and they didn't find it sufficiently entertaining. They never came back. Just how they managed to work it out with their mother I do not know, but I suppose they struck or begged off. Of course she could not object to what I had done, and it proved a very simple solution."—New York Press.

AN ASTOR DEAL.

"One of the most stringent real estate rules of the Astor family is 'never sell,' and only one sale is recorded in the entire life of old John Jacob Astor," said Niles F. Watkins, a real estate broker of New York. "In 1830 Astor tore down his house in Broadway, cleared the whole block from Vesey to Barclay street and built the huge Quincy granite hotel known as the Astor House, which was one of the first notable landmarks in New York and also one of the best paying pieces of property."

"A few days after it was finished the old gentleman and his eldest son, William, were walking through City Hall park, where the postoffice now stands, and stopped a moment to admire the building, the finest hotel in America at that time."

"Pop, that's a mighty fine building," said William. "I wish to gracious it was mine."

"So?" answered the father. "Well, Billy, give me $1 and you can have it." "Out came the dollar—a big silver dollar that is cherished by the family to this day—and within an hour the deed of the property was made out and recorded. This was old Mr. Astor's only sale of real estate in his life."—Washington Herald.

A Solomon-like Decision.

A Rhode Island justice was called upon to determine the ownership of a brood of turkeys. The flock, consisting of fifteen young ones, was mothered by two hens, a white one and a bronze, and had been running for quite a time over two adjoining farms. The owner of the white hen declared that the turkeys were his, while the man who owned the bronze hen asserted just as positively that they belonged to him. The justice was puzzled. At last a witness came forward who swore that he had seen a dog chase the flock; that at the dog's approach the young birds flew up into a tree and the bronze hen took to the woods, but the white hen turned and gave battle to the dog. The justice thereupon decided that the owner of the white hen was also the rightful owner of the brood of young turkeys.—New York Press.

A Woman's Wit.

The husband of Lydia Childs was an invalid for many years. He was not well off in this world's goods, and much of the support of the family was earned by the wife. Thinking of this and of his wife's many sacrifices for his comfort, Mr. Childs once said to her regretfully, "My dear, I wish I were Croesus."

Whereupon Mrs. Childs, with ready wit and gracious tact, responded, "You are Croesus, for you are king of Lydia."—Los Angeles Times.

Imaginary Pains.

Don't laugh at hysterical people with their imaginary pains, says a physician. A "delusion" is reality to the sufferer. When one believes one has a pain one has the pain. All pain is in the brain, and to believe one has it is to have it. It matters not a whit whether the message is sent by one's toe that some kind friend is treading on or whether it is sent from one part of the brain to another.—New York Tribune.

Unmoved.

"I understand your antagonist is calling you every name he can think of?"

"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum cheerily. "But he hasn't much of a vocabulary."—Washington Star.

Much in Little.

Tommy—Pop, what does multum in parvo mean? Tommy's Pop—Multum in parvo is Latin, my son. It means—er—well, haven't you ever seen a fat woman in a bathing suit?—Philadelphia Record.

Distinction.

Did You Ever Think It Over?

That a man can do what is right in any kind of business. Six years ago, when I first came to this city, you had parties in the same line of my business that did about ten per cent. of the business I am doing to-day.

Do You Know the Reason Why?

It's because I give one and all that deals with me a square, honest deal. I owe my success in business to the fact that I always give correct, honest weight and the highest market price.

IF YOU EVER HAVE ANY

scrap iron, metals, rubber, rags, hides, tallow, furs, etc., to offer, see me before selling. If you will call by phone or leave your order I will gladly send my wagons for junk to any part of the city or county.

Kill More Than Wild Beasts.

The number of people killed yearly by wild beasts don't approach the vast number killed by disease germs. No life is safe from their attacks. They're in air, water, dust, even food. But grand protection is afforded by Electric Bitters, which destroy and expel these deadly disease germs from the system. That's why chills, fever and ague, all malarial and many blood diseases yield promptly to this wonderful blood purifier. Try them, and enjoy the glorious health and new strength they'll give you. Money back if not satisfied. Only 50c at Oberdorfer's.

Tip From Mary Jane.

"Oh, dear!" murmured the bride, "these tablecloths are wearing thin in spots so soon!" "Well," answered Mary Jane, "what can you expect when you fold 'em the same way every time you iron 'em? Fold 'em one week in three folds, and the next week in four. Then they won't wear out any more in one place than in another."

Parson's Poem a Gem.

From Rev. H. Stubenvoll, Allison, Ia., in praise of Dr. King's New Life Pills: "They're such a health necessity. In every home these pills should be. If other kinds you've tried in vain, USE DR. KING'S. And be well again." Only 25 cents at Oberdorfer's.

All Her Own.

"Did the audience weep while I was singing?" asked the temperamental soprano. "No," replied the music director, "you were making that noise all by yourself."

Ends Winter's Troubles.

To many winter is a season of trouble. The frost-bitten toes and fingers chapped hands and lips, chilblains, red and rough skins, prove this. But such troubles fly before Bucklen's Arnica Salve. A trial convinces. Greatest healer of burns, boils, piles, cuts, sores, bruises, eczema, sprains. Only 25 cents at Oberdorfer's.

The Secret of Youth

Do you ever wonder how you can remain young, or why other women older than you, look younger than you do? The secret can be put in a few words: "Preserve your health, and you will preserve your youth."

By "health" we mean not alone physical health, but nerve health, as, sometimes, magnificently strong-looking women are nervous wrecks.

But whether you are weak physically or nervously, you need a tonic, and the best tonic for you is Cardui.

It builds strength for the physical and nervous systems. It helps put flesh on your bones and vitality into your nerves.

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"My mother," writes Mrs. Z. L. Adcock, of Smithville, Tenn., "is 44 years old and is passing through the change of life."

"She was irregular and bloated and suffered terribly. My father stepped over to the store and got her a bottle of Cardui, which she took according to directions and now she is up, able to do her housework and says she feels like a new woman." Try Cardui in your own case.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES.

—James Vickers, formerly of Bourbon, has an undisputed claim to having raised the best crop of tobacco in Nicholas county, which grew on the farm of Aris Wiggins. Mr. Vickers has just finished delivering his crop of five acres, which weighed out a total of 11,445 pounds, for which he received 12½ cents per pound, or a total of $286 per acre.

—NICHOLAS COURT—The Advocate says: "A goodly number of people were in town Monday. Not much stock on the market, the farmers were busy talking over the tobacco question, which is in fact the most important topic of the day to our farmers. The greater portion of the farmers we talked to, heartily endorsed the action of the new organization in cutting out the 1911 crop, while a few stated that they had made arrangements with tenants to grow a crop this year, and the cut-out would put them to no little trouble in disposing of their tenants."

"Not for many a day was the horse market so brisk. Extra good horses brought from $185 to $250. H. N. Rankin was on the market and bought 12 head, for Tennessee parties, paying from $140 to $250. He purchased two of Jas. L. Donnell at $500; one of Jas. Crockett for $160.

"L. B. Bratton sold a pair of sorrel percheron horses to Chas. Hall for $450; S. W. Prather sold a brown 3 year old filly at $150."

Still Large Deficit in Treasury.

The condition of the State Treasury at the end of the year has been announced from the Auditor's office. The outstanding warrants have been reduced, but there is still a large deficit. The total in the treasury on December 31 was $1,086,243. It is divided as follows: Sinking fund, $289,618.32; school fund, $320,159.70; general expenditure fund, $476,465.16. The outstanding warrants were $1,457,043.23, as compared with $1,852,357 for the preceding month.

Getting Too Hot for Oliver.

Milton Oliver, a self confessed night rider of Lyons county will shake the dust of Kentucky from his feet as soon as he can dispose of his holdings in this state.

Oliver is a witness for the commonwealth in night rider cases and has been much abused. Recently he was ambushed and shot, but has about recovered from his wound. Axiom Cooper, who was killed by alleged riders at a barbecue in Lyon County, was a tenant on Oliver's farm.

Cooper's slavers were acquitted a few weeks ago. Soldiers have been guarding Oliver for over a year. It is reported that he will file suit in the United States Court against alleged riders for $50,000 damages.

Grants Permission for Location.

It was conclusively settled at Lexington Monday afternoon that the re-question statue of Gen. John Morgan, which the Kentucky Daughters of the Confederacy will erect, shall stand in the southeast corner of the courthouse yard at the junction of Main and Upper streets and facing on Main.

The Fayette County Fiscal Court, more than a year ago, granted permission for the statue to be placed in the courthouse yard, but when new members of the Fiscal Court, a majority of whom had been elected on the Fusion ticket, went into office last January they adopted a resolution to reconsider the action of their Democratic predecessors. However, after a conference with the monument committee, the members of the Fiscal Court voted unanimously to renew the permit, and the monument will be placed in the courthouse and is expected to be dedicated next September.
